GUTTENBURG RACE TRACK, June 5.-A very good card was the attraction that drew a large crowd to Guttenburg. Each event on the card was well filled

Each event on the card was well filled and the fields were so evenly balanced that some very interesting sport was promised.

Preparations for doing business on Guttenburg, Morris Park and Gloucester races were in progress at the new Fort Lee pool-room this morning, and it was positively stated that information upon the New York Jockey Clubraces would be obtained.

The results of the Morris Park races were received at this track to-day, and O'Connor & Co. continued making book on the events there, settling after each race.

was to be feit, and the heat was oppressive.

The programme was excellent in character, and everything was favorable for excellent sport.

The talent was upset in the second race. The bettors plumped on Stillichael, as a good thing and played him down to even money. This coit, however, had a coid the sulks and he would not do his heat. Holler caught the leaders in the last furlong and, in a pretty finish, beat them out. Julien, second choice, beat Major Daly for the place. The latter was the peacemaker for seven furlongs.

The third event was a scramble, called the Debutante Stakes, it was for two year-olds. Miss Fordham was the choice at 3 to 1, and alimost any price sould have been had against the others.

Mclody, an $ to 1 chance, won in a pretty finish, from Parssang and Miss

On the events there, settling after each race.

An accident occurred on the railroad to the track to-day. One of the gates on the platform flew open on the way up, and a young man who had been leaning against it fell off, breaking his collar-tone and severely cutting his head. The road is full of curves, and these accidents have narrowly been averted, several times before. Nine horses faced the starter in the opening race, of which. Marguerite opened a slight favorite, but the bulk of the money went on. Wheeler, They were delayed at the post for some time and Strater Caldwell finally got down on the ground. Rainbow's Performances Not What His Spring Work Promised.

Pittsburg Phil" Reported to Be $75,000 Behind the Game, So Far.

Rainbow, who burst upon the turf horizon like a meteor and dazzled rac-ing folks by his brilliancy for a time, and is unhesitatingly pronounced "no account." It was the general opinion after the Bowling Brook Handicap that Rainbow was a cur. Certain it is that Rainbow's performances of late have not been the best, but his performances must hesitate before pronouncing the son of Longfellow a cur. Rainbow put up weight and worked a mile and a half in 2.36 1-2. Several days later he car-ried equal weights with Don Alonso he seemed to go off, and has not been age and stamina later in the season street Bank's capital is $100,000; when he again recovers his form. Alfred Hennen Morris is of the opinion that Rainbow was outplaced in his race on Saturday, and that at a longer distance he would turn the tables on Sport and Gov. Foraker. He even testified to his faith in the Longfellow colt by offering to match him against Sport at even weights later in the ingly accommodate Mr. Morris. believe they have the best three-year old of the year. Joe Taylor remarked on Saturday after the Bowling Brook was won that people would not now regard him as foolish for not having Foraker on Saturday was one of the best yet seen this season. Gov. For-aker, who was ridden by Sims, collared Sport, who had Taral on his back, at the last furions pole. From that point home it was a furious drive. Both jockeys employed every art at their command to increase the speed of their horses. Sims got Gov. Foraker up to Sport's head and there he hung. He could not pass the bulldog Taral was riding, and amid delirious enthusiasm Sport won by a short head.

The other races were not specially in-teresting. "Pittsburg Phil." who is re-ported to be 375,000 behind on the season, saw his colt Sir Arthur just beaten a head by Willie L. in the last race. Willie L. got up on the rail, and it is no untruith to say that Doggett threw the race away. Sir Arthur looked to have the race in hand, and Doggett never should have allowed Willie L. to get through. Pittsburg Phil stood to win a good many thousand dollars if Sir Arthur won, and his feelings may well be imagined.

Halton's race on Saturday proved a mystery to his owners. He was away well, but he never displayed a particle of speed, and finished far in the rear. It was whispered about the paddock after the race that this colt has been on edge since April last. If this be true then the natural assumption is that Halton has gone off his form.

Declare's race was none too good on Saturday. Patrician was too close at the finish, and he is not rated among the tiptopers.

Madsione pulled up in bad shape after the race for the All Breeze, and the probabilities are that he will not be seen at the poet again this sea-

The crowd again found fault with Judge Nutt's placing of the horses at Guttenburg Saturday, and on this occasion they had reason to kick. The fault was in the second race, a two-year-old maiden affair. The first two, Society and Fagan, were placed all right, but when Florigda's number was run up for third place the kick began. The Florette filly looked to be third by a good neck.

. . . The smart ones got on King Leo Saturday. After his good race with Larghetta two days previous, he looked to have the race at his mercy, and as good as 5 to 2 could be got against him.

Innovation ran a fairly good race and will come pretty nearly landing at his next appearance.
